LEE COLLEGE

Cleveland, Tennessee

*Rough, chipped, bold and forbidding,
Cold and grey, beaten and badly worn
By the repeated annals of untold footsteps;
Sad, joyous, some indifferent, I've borne.*

*Your ecstasy, remorse, hope and regret,
Dislike and scorn, disappointment and fear,
Secrets of love, joys of success, and pains of loss;
You in me have confided in silent solace here.*

*Your crumbling castles on my stern brow
Have given support toward higher goals to soar.
We're some of each other; a part of the whole;
Look to the past, the future is ours, and more.*

DEDICATION

The staff of the 1956 VINDAGUA joins with the students and faculty in recognizing Mrs. Nina Driggers on her twelfth anniversary at our college.

During the past twelve years, Mrs. Driggers has been a vital part of this institution. By her standards of hard work and Christian ideals she has won the respect and admiration of all who know and work with her.

Therefore, in recognition of her past services and in anticipation of the years to come, we proudly and sincerely dedicate this our 1956 VINDAGUA to Mrs. Nina Driggers.

"Then I went down to the potter's house, and, behold, he wrought a work on the wheels."

FOREWORD

The potter, tempering soft earth with delicate fingers, shapes the whirling lump of clay with skillful hands, prudent hands that have fashioned many vessels just like this one.

Slowly but distinctly the bit of earth takes form and the once shapeless lump of clay gives rise to a definite pattern. There—it is finished. No, not yet. The potter gently lifts the earthen form from the wheel and places it into the glowing kiln where the fervent white flames will harden and strengthen the soft clay.

When it has baked, he carefully takes it from the simmering coals, cools it and begins the final process—the finishing touch. With accurate strokes of the brush, he emblazons it with brilliant colors that blush like the rainbow just after an April shower. A shapeless lump of earth has been transformed into a beautiful, charming vessel right before our eyes.

Thus, we are the clay from which the vessel is molded. The Great Potter is Christ, whose hands are the faculty and administration which fashion our lives after Him. The baking and painting processes are those activities such as picnics, ball games, elections, and banquets which go into making us well-rounded individuals. True, they each play an important role in molding and finishing the vessel.

Yes, life at Lee has been a molding process that we shall not soon forget. In the years to come as you scan the pages of our 1956 Vindagua, we hope that it will help you recall fond memories of life here at Lee College where you, like the potter's vessel have been molded for the Master's use.

SUMMARY OF GIRLS' SPORTS

Girls' sports at Lee are under the able direction of Mrs. Hockensmith and Miss Hope Kinser.

The seasonal fall softball saw plenty of spirit and competition. The College Freshmen may feel proud as the champs, having captured honors in softball and volleyball. It was probably the greatest year for the College Freshmen here at Lee.

The never-say-die High School Junior and Senior Cagers walked off with the honors in the basketball tournament. Now as the softball season opens, with the coming of spring, there is great anticipation for another successful season in sports here at Lee.

SUMMARY OF BOYS' SPORTS

Sports hold a special interest for everyone at Lee College. Being one of the most important activities on the campus, they have a definite and integral place in intra-school relations. The fall softball season saw the powerful Bible College team go undefeated, while volleyball honors went to the Junior College Seniors. Basketball which produced some of the keenest competition, was practically entirely controlled by the smoothly operating, powerful High School. In the finals, High School captured the Ernest E. Powers Trophy for the second consecutive year. The boys' sports are headed by coaches Hubert Black and "Bubba" Walston.

The opportunity to be the school photographer has afforded me not only the chance to put my heart and soul in the attempt to make the pictures for this VINDAGUA the best in the history of Lee, but it has also made possible my attendance at Lee.

As you scan through these pages with fond memories, I hope you will enjoy the pictures as much as I have enjoyed making them.
